

B.B. King & Sheena backstage at the Murat Theatre in Indpls., April 8, 1998. Photo by Larry Goshen

SHEENA RACHELL BENEFIT SHOW

Sunday, January 27, 2008

3:00 pm 'til ??

at

MUGSHOTS

(The old Stone Mug at 65TH and College Avenue)

Legendary blues mandolinist James “Yank” Rachell’s granddaughter, Sheena, played bass for Yank for many years. Sadly, Sheena has been diagnosed with “Wegener’s Granulomatosis” a rare disease with no known cause nor cure. With seven young children at home, Sheena can use, and will appreciate, the support of blues lovers everywhere ... so please plan to attend!

Door prizes, good times, and great music guaranteed!

Performers and bands scheduled in order of appearance:

Mandolindy – Jerome Mills Blues Band – Circle City Blues Band - One Side Later

Harvey Cook – JB Deville – Karen & The Beast - Steve Brown & Mike Brown

Dwight Edwards – Bill Smith/Danny Brown and company with

Fredrick Rachell - Steve Robbins – Rich Hynes

Special thanks to:

Sound by Stereo Bob www.stereobob.com

Steve Robbins Music Director www.governordavisandthebluesambassadors.com

Mug Shots & the Crossroads Blues Society of Indiana

Jan Kline/JK Promotions & Yanksville Records www.yankrachell.com

For more information contact

Mike Butler 317-846-9610 or mrbmando@sbcglobal.net